Look to Christ! The man who has struggled to purify himself and has had nothing but repeated failures will experience real relief when he stops tinkering with his soul and looks away to the perfect One. While he looks at Christ, the very things he has so long been trying to do will be getting done within him. -- A.W. Tozer

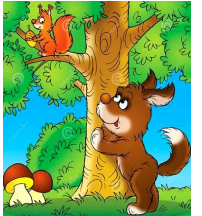

In the spirit of springtime, we focus on the new life God causes to sprout -- in the world and church, in lives and hearts. As we gather, we pray, "Holy God, receive our worship, offered to the glory of your name. Amen." Please greet one another as we prepare to worship God, our Savior.

Look Up! A couple of weeks ago, I was walking past the patio door when I noticed a squirrel peering through the glass door. I realized that squirrel was looking for my little dog, Phoebe. When Phoebe sees the squirrel in the back yard, she flies out that door and sits and stares intently at the spot in the tree where the squirrel is. Then the two of them begin to play. The squirrel jumps from tree to tree, and Phoebe follows on the ground. She carefully looks up so she knows the squirrel's movements and where to go next.

For those of us who know Jesus as Lord and now have a unique relationship with God as His children, we should be watching Him intently. We should remain focused on things above, looking to Him to learn what our next steps should be. Christ's death and resurrection has made it possible for us to have that kind of relationship with Him. Our Lord will lead us through this life and show us the things He has for us and the places we should go.

While we are on this earth, He can help us see things with an eternal perspective. We can look toward the best that is yet to come. Look up, remain focused on Him, and follow His lead. -- an Open Windows devotion

"The Gentle Gardener"

"I'd like to sow the barren spots with all the flowers of earth,
To leave a path where those who come should find but gentle mirth;
And when at last I'm called upon to join the heavenly throng
I'd like to feel along my way I'd left no sign of wrong." -- Edgar A. Guest
